—Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thompson entertained Thursday evening at "Woodlawn Villa" their elegant country home. The handsomely furnished home was prettily decorated with pink carnations and was brilliantly lighted with pink candles in silver and punch in the dining room from an at-

What MITCHELL Says

Now, here's where I am going to brag a bit, but I am only going to tell you a few things you know already. Now about my HOME MADE CANDY. Excuse me if I say, that taken as a line, it cannot be excelled. It has certain fine points that you will find in no other candy.

The Candy Pudding I make is never crumbly, but is always smooth and creamy, and the pe-nut candy, well, I don't think I am wrong if I tell you, that I am the only person in this country who can make it. Others can make peanut, but not like I make.

My cream candy will melt in your mouth and the several kinds of taffy are in a class not to be found anywhere else.

Have you tried my hot chocolate, if not you have been missing a good thing? Only 5c a cup and the ladies say it is the "best ever."

Yours Truly,
C. B. MITCHELL.

Christmas Hints To Our Lady Friends.

This is the season of the year that we always have the pleasure of waiting on hundreds of Lady Patrons.

We enjoy it, too. Wish there were more! Holiday seasons—for the Ladies can't come too often.

We are aware that Good Old Saint Nick finds it very hard work filling Men's Sox with suitable gifts.

The Man Likes Something He Can Wear

But, have a care! He doesn't want "bargain counter" stuff—he won't wear antiquated Neckwear. I Get his present where he always buys his wearables. Get them here, and then you can't go wrong.

The whole Store is a veritable Christmas Tree of gifts. Beautiful Ties, Faultless Shirts, "just right" Underwear, Substantial Half Hose, Fine Handkerchiefs, Good Collars and Cuffs, Handsome Umbrellas. Cuff Buttons, Silk Suspenders, Smoking

WE URGE EARLY BUYING.

Just now Printed English Velours are having an immense run in the fashion centers of this country and Europe. We bought them and showed them as early as the New York retailers did, and we have sold a great many. The original stock purchased amounted to about 900 yards. We have now about 325 yards on hand in the best colorings, particularly the gun metal shades. The price has been 75 cents a yard, and they were cheap at that. Now we are going to make one bold dash for clearing them out quickly, as our holiday goods are coming in and we need the room—

We Have Reduced the Price to . . . 47c PER YD.

This is less than the importer's cost, but it is our way of doing things when we make up our minds to offer a bargain.

THREE MEALS A DAY.

Relation Between a Nation's Food Bills and Its Commerce Shown by Statistics.

Statistics have been collected to show that the measure of the prosperity of a country is the amount of food consumed by its inhabitants—in other words, that diet and commerce go hand in hand. The countries which consume the largest amount of food and drink per capita are the countries which have the largest surplus for export to other lands; the countries which are abstemious or moderate in their consumption of food and drink have little surplus to send away, says the New York Sun.

The average cost of food per capita in the United States is 60 cents a day; the United States stands at the head of exporting countries with an average of $1,250,000,000 in a year.

The average consumption of food and drink in England is 50 cents per capita, and England stands second on the list of exporting countries. Germany is the third with an export trade of more than $1,000,000,000, and 45 cents a day the average per capita spent for food and drink (beer included).

France has an export trade of $800,000,000 a year and the average expense to each inhabitant for food and drink is 40 cents a day. Russia, with an export trade of $375,000,000, expends 20 cents a day on food and drink per capita, and Italy with $275,000,000 of annual exports, spends 18 cents a day, in macaroni, wine and other articles of diet.

All of which convinces statisticians who have unearthed this notion of the relation of productiveness to diet that "three meals a day for each inhabitant" is the open door to world power in commerce, manufactures and the surplus products of a fertile soil.

FOOTBALL ACCIDENT.

Emphasizes Fact That Only the Strongest and Physically Fit Should Be Allowed to Play.

So many accidents have been laid to the game of football and so many lads have been crippled thereby that we seldom hear of the injuries and deaths that might have been avoided. The death of a young medical student of Baltimore during a contest, but at a time when the ball was not in play, says the New York Herald, affords a striking instance of an easily preventable accident.

The victim had been a sufferer from heart disease for a long time and yet was allowed to take active part in the game. His condition should have been, if it was not, known to his medical associates.

There is no account of his having received any injury previous to the time he was stricken with collapse. No better proof of his unfitness for any extra physical exertion can be given than the suddenness of his death while he was merely resting. The lesson of the sad story is emphatic and convincing.

There is no game that requires more careful and systematic training than football and only the strongest are capable of bearing the strain. If there is any physical weakness in the candidate it becomes quickly manifest as he goes on with his exercises, and why such incapacity could not have been discovered in time to have saved the unfortunate youth is difficult to imagine.

Curious Savage Custom.

Maj. Powell-Cotton, who recently explored a part of central Africa never before visited by white men, writes: "Among the Kimager the women go completely naked, but the men are clothed. I secured some photographs of a tribesman and his two wives hoeing the family plot. One of these shows a curious fashion of skin decoration in vogue among the womenfolk. It is a raised pattern wrought on the body when they are young. Small incisions, geometrically arranged, are made in the skin and into these ashes are inserted. The wounds heal in permanent raised

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method—Every Breath of Hyomei Brings Relief.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure by dosing the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have told you the only way to cure catarrh was to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can carry a purifying climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Clark & Co. have sold a great many of Hyomei outfits and the more they sell, the more convinced they are that it is a perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

Up-to-date.—Tom Crawford is strictly up-to-date in the tonsorial line and you will not regret having him or his assistants wait on you when you want a clean shave or a hair cut. He employs none but white barbers.

The report of the commissioner of education places the total number of pupils enrolled in the common schools at 15,825,887, or over 20 per cent. of the entire population. The average daily attendance for 1902 was 10,999,273, or 69 per cent. of the total number enrolled. Less than 23 per cent. of the teachers were males, or 122,392 out of a total of 439,596. The private schools are tabulated at 1,103,901 for the elementary schools and 168,636 for academic and other secondary schools. The grand total enrollment for the year, including public and private, elementary, secondary and higher educational evening schools, business schools, private kindergartens, Indian schools, state schools for orphans and others, is 18,080,840.

Disease of Naval Officers.

The medical officers of the navy who have been making a study of neurasthenia, which has disabled so many officers, ascribe it to the conditions of the life in the navy now imposing upon officers' long tours of duty on remote stations, where the opportunities for diversion are not many, and where homesickness and discontent, combined with the uncertainty of detachment, have produced this distress of mind and body.

DRINK LESS; GAMBLE MORE.

Habits of Men and Women Have Greatly Changed in Last Quarter of a Century.

Much more attention is now paid to the liver than was formerly the case, says the London Graphic. The doctors in recent years have traced many ills to drink, and have trained their patients to be abstemious. That is one of the causes of the decrease which has been referred to. Another is that the high-spirited man, who was "nobody's enemy but his own," who drank to keep his spirits up, is no longer a favorite. On the contrary, he is avoided. The increased habit of dining in restaurants has also acted as a check. It is to be observed, too, that the boisterous element has been almost entirely removed. Up to about 20 years ago "knocker-wrenching," "larking," practical joking, the hearty style of meeting which found expression in a violent slap upon the back, were not only tolerated, but popular. All that is discredited now.

On the other hand, there is much more gambling to-day than there was, though, so far as cards are concerned, the stakes are considerably smaller. Three estates lost in three nights in an incident which this generation is ignorant of. But almost everyone occasionally gambles in stocks and shares, and many make speculation their chief object in life. Bridge has become little less than a disease among women. Many of the latter spend most of their afternoons and evenings over the card table. At the clubs, too, bridge often commences early in the afternoon, while most of the gamblers in former days only began playing in the late hours of the evening.

ROBBER BEES DESPOIL HIVES.

Organize Raids to Descend Upon Their More Industrious Neighbors for Winter's Supply of Honey.

To the person who knows nothing about bees they represent the supreme type of industry, says the London Chronicle. But even the bee communities are disturbed by those of their own kind who break through and steal. Robber bees are always a source of anxiety to beekeepers, and in the autumn the marauders seem particularly active.

Having gathered no honey, or, at any rate, an insufficient supply for themselves, they descend upon a hive, kill its industrious occupants and carry off the golden treasure in an astonishingly short space of time. We now of a recent instance in which the attack was developed and the home bees killed in a couple of hours. Sometimes a hive will attack neighboring hives. In such cases the old straw "skins" was better than the modern arrangement, for a knife through the top would break the comb and set the honey free, at which the thieves would instantly return to seal up their own store. It is not primarily in their industry that bees are human.

BRAIN VERSUS BRAWN.

Chicago Professor Takes Issue with Those Who Talk About Race Suicide—His Views.

Prof. Wilbur Jackson, dean of the school of education, Chicago university, believes that quality of population is more important than quantity, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In a recent address he said: "The highest evolution is in quality, not quantity. I am not particularly disturbed by the hysteria of our strenuous friends regarding race suicide. In the course of evolution I believe that the race has passed beyond the stage of the rabbit and the rat."

The good sense of this is in marked contrast to much of the rhetoric on the subject. When the country is new and sparsely settled brawn is wanted in large quantities to fell forests, clear land for agriculture and expel the wild beasts of the wilderness. When the country fills up and the problems of society press for solution brain of good quality is most in request.

The problems of civilization are complicated and intellect of rare quality is needed. If quantity is not so much in evidence in families, we have reason to hope that quality is not absent.

QUEER MATTED FIR TREE.

North Carolina Has a Great Natural Curiosity—Tree Tops a Man Can Walk Upon.

One of the greatest natural curiosities I ever saw is the matted fir trees of North Carolina, said C. R. Ball, of Raleigh, in the Washington Star. I have never found a botanist who could explain the phenomena, but there is a grove of fir trees on the side of Mount Mitchell, which, when they attain the height of eight or ten feet, begin to twine their branches and form flat tops. They grow in this way until the tops are perhaps 20 feet in diameter, and these have in some instances combined with the tops of other like trees, and a person can walk for a considerable distance upon these tops.

They are undoubtedly a species of fir, but wholly unlike the other firs which are plentiful in that section, except in appearance of foliage. I have taken several scientists out to see these trees and have not yet found one who had ever seen or heard of a similar growth. They occupy an area of only a few acres, and are found nowhere else in the North Carolina mountains.

This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 50 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how little you are not to purchase the only remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1888 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Tubercular Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Dr. Williams' German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, and especially for Consumption, where there is a difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 50 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents.—W. T. Brooks.
